How to read this

Every frame carries a VIDEO-ABSOLUTE time -- seconds from the start of the video at the URL above, NOT seconds from the start of the bout -- printed as text directly above it. Those times run from 4:09:34 to 4:19:14.

Return every timestamp in that same video-absolute clock. If the bout starts partway into the video, say where it starts as a separate field -- do not rebase the event times to it. A bout-relative time reported as an absolute one places the whole fight in a different part of the broadcast, and the result looks plausible while being wrong.

THE CAPTION TEXT BESIDE EACH FRAME IS A GUIDE, NOT GROUND TRUTH. It is an auto-caption of live commentary: the commentator misnames athletes, talks about one bout while another is on screen, anticipates and speculates, and the text lags the picture. When the caption and the frame disagree, THE FRAME WINS. Use the caption to orient where to look and to break a tie on a label -- never to record an event you did not see in the frame itself.

For each event you can see, give:

<code>ts</code>	integer seconds, video-absolute
<code>label</code>	a technique name, taken verbatim from the label list
<code>actor</code>	which competitor did it, by name
<code>successful</code>	true if it landed, false if attempted and stopped
<code>type</code>	one of: control, submission, guard, takedown, pass, transition, sweep, escape
<code>points</code>	points the scoreboard awarded for THIS action; omit if you cannot read it

Points are the one thing the scoreboard is authoritative for, and reading footage is the first time they are visible at all -- a transcript only ever carried what a commentator said aloud. So: report `points` only when you can actually read the number change on the scoreboard between frames, attribute it to the action that caused it, and OMIT the field otherwise. Never write 0 to mean 'I could not tell' -- an action that scored nothing and an action nobody could score are different facts, and only an absent field holds the second. If the score jumps and you cannot see which action earned it, say so in `note` on the nearest event rather than guessing an attribution.

Also return, once per bout: the two competitors' names, the event/card name, the year, who won and how, `bout_start_seconds` -- the video-absolute second the bout begins -- and `final_score` as "a-b" if the scoreboard shows one. If this video contains more than one bout, return one such object per bout.

LABELS ARE A CLOSED VOCABULARY. Take each `label` verbatim from `node_library.json`, which lists every technique the library knows, most-used first. A label is normalised into a node key, and that key IS the node in every graph it reaches -- so a spelling the library does not have does not fail, it mints a second node, and one technique arrives split in two with no error anywhere. Where two listed names could both fit, take the one printed higher: that ordering is how often the corpus already uses it. If a frame genuinely shows something the list does not cover, use your own words and flag it as `new_label: true` rather than bending it into the nearest listed name.

NOT EVERY FRAME IS LIVE ACTION. A broadcast cuts to slow-motion replays, usually right after a finish or a scoring exchange, and a replay looks exactly like the thing it replays. Read one as new action and the same event is recorded twice, seconds apart, which downstream reads as a repeated technique rather than one shown twice. Tells: a graphics bug or logo appears, the clock stops or disappears, the camera angle changes, the action repeats something you already saw. Skip those frames rather than logging them, and say in the note which range you treated as replay.

AND NOT EVERY FRAME IS THIS BOUT. A broadcast cuts away -- to another mat, to a different match's scorecard, to a crowd shot or an ad -- and it may show two bouts in sequence with a gap between rounds. A reader found exactly that in this batch: a scorecard from an unrelated match sitting in the middle of the sampled frames. Events read off a cutaway land on the wrong athletes entirely, which is worse than missing them. Before logging any event, confirm the frame shows the two competitors you identified, and say in the note which ranges you excluded as not-this-bout.

THE SCOREBOARD'S NAME ORDER IS NOT A MAT POSITION. A lower-third graphic puts one name left and one right by broadcast convention; which competitor stands where on the mat is unrelated and changes shot to shot. Binding a name to a body through that order is the single highest-cost error available here, because `actor` is on every event -- get it backwards and the whole answer inverts at once, while still looking internally consistent. Bind identity to something carried ON the athlete instead: a name printed on the back of the rashguard, kit colour, sleeve length, an ankle band, hair. Then check that discriminator against a frame where the scoreboard and the bodies are visible together, and say in `identity_verified_by` which frame did it.

REPORT ONLY WHAT YOU ARE CONFIDENT OF -- but report uncertainty by getting COARSER, not by staying silent and not by guessing. If the frames show that something happened and you cannot tell exactly which technique it was, use the generic label the library already carries -- `Guard Pass` rather than a named pass, `Takedown` rather than a named entry, `Submission` rather than a named finish, and likewise `Sweep`, `Escape`, `Guard`. A generic label is the honest answer at the resolution these frames give you; a specific one you inferred is a claim about a technique nobody saw, and once it is in the athlete's graph nothing downstream can tell it from an observed one.

This matters most across the sampling gap. At one frame every 20s a technique can start and finish between two samples, leaving only its result visible -- a competitor who was on top now now underneath, a grip that is now a finish. Recording that result generically is correct. Naming the entry you did not see is not, however obvious it feels. The same rule covers `actor`: if you cannot tell which competitor did it, say so in `note` rather than picking one, because a right technique on the wrong athlete is two errors.

The result line at the top, when there is one, comes from the athlete's BJJ Heroes record. It is there so you can tell the two competitors apart and know the bout ended -- it is NOT evidence of anything you cannot see. Do not report a finish, a technique or a score because that line names it: an armbar listed as the method and an armbar visible in the frames are two different claims, and only the second belongs in your answer.

Only report what a frame actually shows. The scoreboard settles POINTS and nothing else: a technique you infer from a score change but never see is worth less than an omission, because a wrong label propagates into the athlete's graph and their rating and nothing downstream can tell it from an observed one. An omission is recoverable; an invented event is not.

one because as I said it depends on the ro on the referee's decision. I don't know what they considered action or not but had more guillotine attempts but Gabriel had had some lag attacks. Yeah, but I think that also not only that offensive starting some of them started from uh Gabriel and then Pedro was able to secure the head and get the guillotine. So we're going to see right now what's going to be the half decision. They're having they're having a good They're having a good discussion there at the table. Yeah, the ref and the judges, they're having that's a hard one. Pretty robust conversation. That's a whole camp of an athlete that you got to consider. There's a lot of stuff in there. Any of like little mistakes that you commit can go like live deciding.

4:10:14 (15014s)

Yeah. You know, mistake there can change it can change your your story. It can change your fate, your history. Yeah. Yeah. Yeah. ADC has been so big right now that no matter who you are, if you get into the main event, there's a lot of stuff on top of you and you do not want to mess it up to take an inevasion. ADCC now enjoys unprecedented prestige. ADC has been growing so much in popularity. Is the most prestigious uh tournament in all of BJJ at the moment.

4:10:54 (15054s)

That's going to be a silly comment, but I remember uh uh Whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa. Coming from Mika Galvo. Never a silly comment. Come on, man. I just remember being ADCC and then I remember a guy asking and saying, "Hey, Mika, when are you going to compete?" And I was like, "Oh, it's going to be at that time." And I was like, "Hey, I just bet on you $2,000. Do not lose, buddy." And I was like, "What?

4:11:14 (15074s)

Excuse me? No pressure." And then I asked him, "Hey, how long have you on you? How long have you pregnancy?" And he's like, "I've never done a jiu-jitsu in my life. if I just enjoy you and watching ADC and my man go and I'm like what? See, so this guy, he doesn't even practice, but he likes the sport. We are bringing in people from the outside, non-practitioners. And the winner is

Pedro Moreno gets his ticket punch to the world in August 2024. Pedro Mourinho is coming. You guys better be ready. very respectful athlete in there raising Gabriel's hand and Gabriel Almeida Ree organizing team since they took over uh all obviously under Mo Jassim but he's not alone he has a great team and uh since they took over man uh ADCC change and changing the whole grappling scenario around the world Jonath Gracie Alexander de Jesus tie up immediately come in and Alexander I mean got to tell you man he uh people you don't want sleep on that guy. He submitted his way uh to the finals here and he is no joke. I know I know Jonathan Tracy uh is more famous, has accomplished a whole lot, but Alexander Deus man uh you do not want to sleep on that guy. Yeah. Has crazy lightning fast submissions. Uh it's funny, but I fought with those two guys and I know how strong and tough it's to compete against them. So, I'm just really looking forward to the upcoming match. Have you trained with either of them? I trained actually with both and I competed against both. I trained with uh Alexander for a while because he was the same team as me. Okay. Uh I trained with Jonathan Racy too and we both uh uh faced each other on competitions too. So it's pretty much super cool for me to be able to watch those two guys competing facing off on the 77 kilos division. Like them both like their style. like how they push the pace onto the matches and I'm just here as a fan of jiu-jitsu saying that I can expect for the rest of the match and that's pretty awesome. This is why we love what we do. We love jiu-jitsu. We love grappling. We love to see these guys coming on the mats and and giving it all they have. It's 6 minutes and 30 and they're still pushing the match and they're on top. Ooh, Jonathan's go for the single X. It seems like deep in there.

4:12:14 (15134s)

4:13:14 (15194s)

Uhoh. Uhoh. by the single is able to take down Hab and he seems like he accepted that he wasn't fighting that much to be on top. Seems like he's going to try to attack the legs. Passing the leg over. Oh, he gets to the opposite leg in there. Got an all leg. The other leg might have trying to come up on top of

4:13:54 (15234s)

Jonathan. And again, Jonathan also a guillotine specialist. Yeah. And it's very tough. I saw him submitting some guillotine there. He's able to escape and he goes again for that single leg. It seems like that single leg is pretty tough to defend. Goes all the way to the bottom then comes up with the guy on his arms.

4:14:14 (15254s)

Jonathan seems like he's physically very well, but also Habim seems like physically has been training a lot and technically those two guys have been very strong on their games on the noi side. And habinho trains under Clauddio Kalazanu is an ADCC veteran, ADCC winner and super fight veteran, right?

4:14:34 (15274s)

Absolute champ. I think that he was the lightest absolute champ on ACC history as a 77, right? 77 kilos. So Fabinho has someone to look up to and to tell him about the rule sets and stuff, which experience, as I said, counts a lot.

4:14:54 (15294s)

Experience counts a whole lot. are still playing there on top going have you on those car ties fighting for the inside position in there. Oh, Habin goes and shoot for the under hook into counters now. And uh a cool thing is that once Kalazans got that guillotin in there seems to seems tight. He's able to get out.

4:15:14 (15314s)

Yeah. Giving Jonathan's Gracie a little bit of his poison, right? Yeah. How does it feel, buddy? How does it feel? keep doing that to everybody. How does it feel now? The wizard is being attacked by the wind. I know.

4:15:34 (15334s)

And with uh Claio Kazans when he won uh he had to face he won the absolute. So he got a spot for the super fight. But he had to fight his longtime friend and greatest champion of all time in ADC. Andre Andre Galvo. And even though they were friends, they decided to do and they did it. Yep.

4:15:54 (15354s)

two athletes that I love to watch on putting up on a show and you know was a crazy match. Those two guys were like tanks. Yeah. Yeah. And now they're here. Both of their students, Kazan and also Andrea. I think that Exactly. Super cool to see the history going passing down. Yeah. History repeats itself, right?

4:16:14 (15374s)

They're not there fighting, but they're producing ADCC champions. Oh, he goes in for the guillotine and he get it. That is deep. Let's see if he goes down. Let's see if he's able to escape. It seems like Jonathan's Grace is still trying to He's trapping the leg is in there. I think he wants to wrap the leg. Oh, he's trying to come on top now. He does the want to get Oh, he gets the counter.

Amazing exchange. And remember everybody now we do have points being awarded for the last 30 seconds. 3 minutes and 31. I see like he wasn't trying to give up the points and then I just realized that it was points time. Yeah. 3 minutes and 30 for last 45 seconds.

4:16:54 (15414s)

It's tight right now. No points awarded to any fighters. And there is three minutes left. Jonathan's Grayson on top positioning while Hab and Ju is on bottom. We're going to see now how it's going to play. I think Habin is going to try to wrap up the legs again to try to come up on top while Jonas is going to try to keep him on bottom to wear him down a little bit with his passes. And it happens. as he goes for the leg entanglements.

Okay, so that leg is strapped pretty knee line is free so I don't think he's going to be able to attack it right now. Out of danger and he goes back to passing it's trying to play on the bottom but

4:17:34 (15454s)

Jonathan Gracie just aggressively coming into that pass. The thing with Jonathan is that if you let him if you don't control him he's going to put stress on your guard continually. He won't stop until he's on side control. It's like horrible to be under him cuz you see that all the time clearing up the shields and coming up. Take off. You've been there and you don't miss it.

4:17:54 (15474s)

Yes. Not at all. Not at all. I don't miss it. Not even a little bit. And you can tell that is like clearing off there that hook inside going off to the other side crossing the knee bringing the arm in. But Habin doesn't let it free. He just comes up. Oh, he gets a little bit on the body lock there, but he misses it. Two minutes left. He got the guillotine once again.

4:18:14 (15494s)

Jonathan's in in guillotine position, but Habin seems to have it defended pretty well. Let's see what they do now. I think he's going to try to go for the back. Yep. He's trying to go for the further leg maybe to take down or go for the back. Still at the team there pretty tight.

4:18:34 (15514s)

Oh, he missed up the the opportunity to go take down. The crowd sounds pretty pleased with their combat, right? It seems like everybody's blocking and chanting and and screaming I should say pretty even 1 minute 40 both guys attacking non-stop while being going for the legs and try to come up on some dudesly take downs while Jonathan Gracie very strong the pressure passes and also the takedowns those collar stop those collar ties man they wear you down and as I said Jonathan's been pretty strong in that single leg so Habin cannot rest not even a second and as you said just right now the core More ties are very important on the nogi set. And it's funny, Mutamasjitsu just did a little study where he saw some matches where some guys did it like 3 minutes or four minutes like 35 40 times with the collar ties all the time breaking the posture, getting them tired, putting stress on their cervical and it's horrible when someone does it.

4:19:14 (15554s)
